I. 2024 Business Report

(I) Business Plan and Result

In 2024, the consolidated net operating revenue of the Group amounted to NT$10.172 billion, representing a 25% increase compared to NT$8.147 billion in 2023. The net income for 2024 was NT$2.301 billion, reflecting a 75% increase from the NT$1.312 billion recorded in 2023. Earnings per share after tax amounted to NT$24.42.

According to the well-known research institute IEK, the global semiconductor market output value is projected to reach USD 685 billion in 2025, representing a 12.5% growth compared to the previous year. Driven by the continued surge in global demand for artificial intelligence (AI) and high-performance computing (HPC), major markets are continuously upgrading their technical specifications—from cloud data centers and end-user devices to specific industry applications. The semiconductor supply chain encompasses design, manufacturing, testing, and advanced packaging. With close collaboration across the industry's upstream and downstream segments, a new wave of growth opportunities is expected to emerge. In addition, research institutes further estimate that the global AI semiconductor market will achieve a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 19.9% from 2021 to 2026, compared to a CAGR of 5.8% for the overall global semiconductor market. This indicates that the robust growth of AI semiconductors will become a key driving force for the development of the semiconductor industry. At the same time, with the significant increase in demand for AI chips, research institutes forecast that the global semiconductor market size will reach between USD 700 billion and USD 800 billion by 2027. The rapid development of AI chips is expected to bring tremendous business opportunities to the global semiconductor supply chain.

Semiconductor chips require probe cards to assist in quality inspection; without the yield control provided by probe cards, chips cannot be successfully shipped. Modern human life heavily relies on electronic products, and the increasing presence of such products in our daily lives has established a long-term growth trend for semiconductor production and testing. MPI, as an internationally renowned leader in probe cards, has established a solid technological foundation through long-term collaboration with the world's leading IC design firms. In addition, in the field of semiconductor engineering testing and temperature testing, it is expected that market demand will steadily increase with the rapid development of AI applications. Looking ahead, MPI will continue to focus on enhancing its technology and service quality, aiming to create higher investment value for its shareholders.

Basis for Opinion

We have conducted our audits in accordance with the "Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants" and auditing principles. Our responsibilities as CPAs under said standards will be explained in the Entities Responsibilities paragraph of the parent company only financial statements. All relevant personnel of the accounting firm have followed CPA code of ethics and maintained independence from MPI Corporation when performing their duties. Based on our audits and the report of the other CPAs, we believe that the evidence obtained provide an adequate and appropriate basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit issues are matters that we considered to be the most important, based on professional judgment, when auditing the 2024 parent company only financial statements of MPI Corporation. These issues have already been addressed when we audited and formed our opinions on the parent company only financial statements. Therefore, we do not provide opinions separately for individual issues.

Key audit issues concerning the 2024 parent company only financial statements of MPI Corporation are stated as follows:

I. Revenue Recognition

Matter Description

For the accounting policy about recognition of revenue, please refer to Note 4(27) to the parent company only financial statements. For related disclosures, please refer to Note 6(20) and Note 9 for major accounts, Statement of Operating Revenue.

Sales revenue serves as the key indicator applied by investors and the management to evaluate the financial position or business performance of MPI Corporation. Considering that the timing for recognition of revenue and recognized amount are critical to the financial statements, they are identified as one of the key audit issues when we are auditing the financial statements.

Audit Procedures in Response

The CPA(s) has implemented audit procedures in response as summarized below:

- 1. To understand and test the design of internal control system about sales and cash receipts cycle, and validity of implementation thereof.
- To understand the type of major revenue and trading terms & conditions of MPI Corporation, in order to evaluate whether the accounting policy applicable at the time of recognition of revenue is adequate.
- 3. To understand the type and sale of products to top ten customers, perform a random check and check purchase orders, evaluate the impact posed by trading terms and conditions to recognition of revenue, and confirm whether the accounting treatment adopted by MPI Corporation is adequate.
- 4. Evaluate the rationality of sales revenue and receivables turnover days, and analyze whether there is any significant changes in customers between the most recent period and the same period last year.
- 5. To perform a detailed test, take samples from the trading for sales revenue for a while before and after the reporting date, execute the cut-off test, verify that related documents, changes of stated inventory and sales cost carry-forward have been recorded within adequate period, in order to evaluate the accuracy of the period for recognition of revenue, whether there is any abnormal receipt voucher, and whether there is any significant returns & refunds subsequently.

II. Inventory Valuation

Matter Description

For the accounting policy about evaluation of inventory, please refer to Note 4(15) to the parent company only financial statements. For the major sources of uncertainty in significant accounting judgments, estimations and hypotheses, please refer to Note 5 to the parent company only financial statements. For the notes to major accounts, please refer to Note 6(5) to the parent company only financial statements. As of December 31, 2024, the inventories and allowance for inventory valuation and obsolescence losses of MPI Corporation amounted to NT$3,859,160 thousand and NT$591,954 thousand, respectively. The book value of inventories was NT$3,267,206 thousand, representing 20% of the total assets on the parent company only balance sheet.

MPI Corporation is primarily engaged in the production and sale of semiconductor process and testing equipment. The management takes into account the high risk over inventory devaluation loss or obsolescence posed by the repaid changes in technologies, short life cycle of electronic products and intensive competition in market. The inventory was measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Additionally, for the inventories beyond specific inventory age and evaluated as obsolete separately, the inventory valuation loss was evaluated based on the inventory age and future demand for the product within specific time limit. The source of information refers to the net realizable value of various products judged by the management based on the sales, obsolescence and quality of the inventory. Considering that MPI Corporation had significant inventory amount and multiple types of products, and the evaluation basis adopted for the inventories beyond specific inventory age and held obsolete varies depending on the management's subjective judgment, the high uncertainty was caused accordingly. Therefore, in our opinion, the evaluation on allowance for inventory devaluation and obsolescence losses shall also be one of the key audit issues this year.

Audit Procedures in Response

The CPA(s) has implemented audit procedures in response as summarized below:

1. To the best of our knowledge about the industry and operation of MPI Corporation, we evaluated the rationality of the policy adopted by it to provide the allowance for inventory devaluation and obsolescence losses.

- 2. To understand the inventory management procedure of MPI Corporation, review its annual inventory-taking plan and participate its annual inventory taking to evaluate the validity of the management's judgment and control over obsolete inventories.
- 3. Access the inventory aging report on various products, verify the validity of the report system and logic, and confirm the consistency between the reports and defined policies.
- 4. Evaluate the validity of the method used to calculate the inventory devaluation losses, including categories of inventory defined based on determined net realizable value, random check on individual part numbers, basic hypotheses used to verify the calculation, and related supporting documents, and verification of the accuracy of calculation.

Other Matters - Making Reference to the Audits of CPAs

As stated in Note 6(6) to the parent company only financial statements, certain investments under equity method were not audited by us, but by the other CPAs. Therefore, in some opinion stated by us in said parent company only financial statements, the figures stated therein and related information disclosed in Note 13 were based on the audit report prepared by the other CPAs. The incomes under equity method recognized based on the financial reports audited by other external auditors from January 1 to December 31, 2024 and 2023 were NT$101,553 thousand and NT$(14,214) thousand. Until December 31, 2024 and 2023, the balances of investment under equity method were NT$179,584 thousand and NT$72,328 thousand, respectively.

- 1. Identifying and assessing risks of material misstatement due to fraud or error in the parent company only financial statements; designing and executing appropriate responsive measures for the identified risks; and obtaining adequate and appropriate audit evidence to support audit opinions. Fraud may involve conspiracy, forgery, intentional omission, untruthful declaration or breach of internal control, and our audit did not find any material misstatement where the risk of fraud is greater than the risk of error.

Independent Accountants' Audit Report

To all Shareholders of MPI Corporation:

Audit opinions

We have audited the consolidated balance sheets of MPI Corporation and its subsidiaries (hereinafter referred to as the "MPI Group") as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the consolidated comprehensive income statements, consolidated statements of changes in shareholders' equity, consolidated cash flow statements and notes to the consolidated financial statements (including a summary of the important accounting policies) for the period from January 1 to December 31, 2024 and 2023.

In our opinion, based on our audits and the report of the other auditors (please refer to Paragraph "Other Matters"), said consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the MPI Group as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the consolidated financial performance and consolidated cash flows from January 1 to December 31, 2024 and 2023 in conformity with the "Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers" and the IFRS, IAS, IFRIC, and SIC approved and effective upon promulgation by the FSC.

Basis for Opinion

We have conducted our audits in accordance with the "Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants" and auditing principles. Our responsibilities as an auditor under said standards will be explained in the Entities Responsibilities paragraph of the consolidated financial statements. All relevant personnel of the accounting firm have followed CPA code of ethics and maintained independence from the MPI Group when performing their duties. Based on our audits and the report of the other CPAs, we believe that the evidence obtained provide an adequate and appropriate basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit issues are matters that we considered to be the most important, based on professional judgment, when auditing the 2024 consolidated financial statements of the MPI Group. These issues have already been addressed when we audited and formed our opinions on the consolidated financial statements. Therefore, we do not provide opinions separately for individual issues.

Key audit issues concerning the 2024 consolidated financial statements of the MPI Group are stated as following:

I. Revenue Recognition

Matter Description

For the accounting policy about recognition of revenue, please refer to Note 4(28) to the parent company only financial statements. For related disclosures, please refer to Note 6(19).

Sales revenue serves as the key indicator applied by investors and the management to evaluate the financial position or business performance of the MPI Group. Considering that the timing for recognition of revenue and recognized amount are critical to the financial statements, they are identified as one of the key audit issues when we are auditing the financial statements.

Audit Procedures in Response

The CPA(s) has implemented audit procedures in response as summarized below:

- 1. To understand and test the design of internal control system about sales and cash receipts cycle, and validity of implementation thereof.
- 2. To understand the type of major revenue and trading terms & conditions of the MPI Group, in order to evaluate whether the accounting policy applicable at the time of recognition of revenue is adequate.
- 3. To understand the type and sale of products to top ten customers, perform a random check and check purchase orders, evaluate the impact posed by trading terms and conditions to recognition of revenue, and confirm whether the accounting treatment adopted by the MPI Group is adequate.
- 4. Evaluate the rationality of sales revenue and receivables turnover days, and analyze whether there is any significant changes in customers between the most recent period and the same period last year.
- 5. To perform a detailed test, take samples from the trading for sales revenue for a while before and after the reporting date, execute the cut-off test, verify that related documents, changes of stated inventory and sales cost carry-forward have been recorded within adequate period, in order to evaluate the accuracy of the period for recognition of revenue, whether there is any abnormal receipt voucher, and whether there is any significant returns & refunds subsequently.

Matter Description

For the accounting policy about evaluation of inventory, please refer to Note 4(17) to the consolidated financial statements. For the major sources of uncertainty in significant accounting judgments, estimations and hypotheses, please refer to Note 5 to the consolidated financial statements. For the notes to major accounts, please refer to Note 6(5) to the consolidated financial statements. The MPI Group had the inventory and allowance for inventory devaluation and obsolescence losses, NT$4,083,209 thousand and NT$605,811 thousand, on December 31, 2024. The book value of inventories was NT$3,477,398 thousand, i.e., 21% of the total assets in the consolidated balance sheet.

The MPI Group is primarily engaged in production, processing and sale of semiconductor process and testing equipment. The management takes into account the high risk over inventory devaluation loss or obsolescence posed by the repaid changes in technologies, short life cycle of electronic products and intensive competition in market. The inventory was measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Additionally, for the inventories beyond specific inventory age and evaluated as obsolete separately, the inventory valuation loss was evaluated based on the inventory age and future demand for the product within specific time limit. The source of information refers to the net realizable value of various products judged by the management based on the sales, obsolescence and quality of the inventory. Considering that the MPI Group had significant inventory amount and multiple types of products, and the evaluation basis adopted for the inventories beyond specific inventory age and held obsolete varies depending on the management's subjective judgment, the high uncertainty was caused accordingly. Therefore, in our opinion, the evaluation on allowance for inventory devaluation and obsolescence losses shall also be one of the key audit issues this year.

Audit Procedures in Response

The CPA(s) has implemented audit procedures in response as summarized below:

- 1. To the best of our knowledge about the industry and operation of the MPI Group, we evaluated the rationality of the policy adopted by it to provide the allowance for inventory devaluation and obsolescence losses.
- 2. To understand the inventory management procedure of the MPI Group, review its annual inventory-taking plan and participate its annual inventory taking to evaluate the validity of the management's judgment and control over obsolete inventories.
- 3. Access the inventory aging report on various products, verify the validity of the report system and logic, and confirm the consistency between the reports and defined policies.
- 4. Evaluate the validity of the method used to calculate the inventory devaluation losses, including categories of inventory defined based on determined net realizable value, random check on individual part numbers, basic hypotheses used to verify the calculation, and related supporting documents, and verification of the accuracy of calculation.

Other Matters - Making Reference to the Audits of CPAs

The financial statements of some subsidiaries of the MPI Group included in the Group's consolidated financial statements were audited by the other CPAs, not us. Therefore, in some opinion stated by us in said consolidated financial statements, the figures stated therein and related information disclosed in Note 13 were based on the audit report prepared by the other CPAs. Said subsidiaries' total assets were NT$1,539,804 thousand and NT$638,722 thousand, i.e., 9.34% and 5.13% of the consolidated total assets as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. As of January 1 to December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Group had net operating revenue amounting to NT$2,577,209 thousand and NT$1,346,555 thousand, i.e., 25.34% and 16.53% of the consolidated net operating revenue, respectively.

Other Matters- Parent Company Only Financial Statement

We hereby express an unqualified opinion in favor of MPI Corporation on the parent company only financial statements so prepared for 2024 and 2023.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The responsibility of the management is to have the consolidated financial statements presented fairly in accordance with the "Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers" and the IFRS, IAS, IFRIC, and SIC approved and effective upon promulgation by the FSC, and also maintain the necessary internal controls related to the consolidated financial statements to ensure that the consolidated financial statements are free of any material misstatement arising from fraud or errors.

The management's responsibilities when preparing the consolidated financial statements also involved: assessing the ability of the MPI Group to operate, disclose information and account for transactions as a going concern unless the management intends to liquidate or cease business operations, or is compelled to do so with no alternative solution.

The governing body of MPI Group (including the Audit Committee) is responsible for supervising the financial reporting process.

Responsibilities of the CPA when auditing consolidated financial statements

The purposes of our audit were to obtain reasonable assurance of whether the consolidated financial statements were prone to material misstatements caused by fraud or error, and issue a report of our consolidated audit opinions. We considered assurance to be reasonable only if it is highly credible. However, audit tasks conducted in accordance with auditing principles do not necessarily guarantee detection of all material misstatements within the financial consolidated statements. Misstatements can be attributed to fraud or error. Misstatements are considered material if the individual amount or aggregate total is reasonably expected to affect economic decisions of the consolidated financial statement user.

When conducting audits in accordance with audit principles, we exercised judgments and raised doubts as deemed professionally appropriate. We also performed the following tasks as CPAs:

1. Identifying and assessing risks of material misstatement due to fraud or error; designing and executing appropriate responsive measures for the identified risks; and obtaining adequate and appropriate audit evidence to support audit opinions. Fraud may involve conspiracy, forgery, intentional omission, untruthful declaration or breach of internal control, and our audit did not find any material misstatement where the risk of fraud is

- greater than the risk of error.
- 2. Developing the required level of understanding on relevant internal controls and designing audit procedures that are appropriate under the prevailing circumstances, but without providing opinion on the effectiveness of internal control system of the MPI Group.
- 3. Assessing the appropriateness of accounting policies adopted by the management, and the rationality of accounting estimates and related disclosures made.
- 4. Forming conclusions regarding the appropriateness of management's decision to account for the business as a going concern, and whether there are doubts or uncertainties about the MPI Group to operate as a going concern, based on the audit evidence obtained. We are bound to remind the consolidated financial statement users and make related disclosures if material uncertainties exist in regards to said events or circumstances, and amend audit opinions when the disclosures are no longer appropriate. Our conclusions are based upon audit evidence obtained as of the audit report date. However, occurrences of future events or circumstances may still render the MPI Group no longer capable of operating as a going concern.
- 5. Assessing the overall presentation, structure and contents of the consolidated financial statements (including related notes), and whether certain transactions and events are presented appropriately in the financial statements.
- 6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence on the standalone financial information of the MPI Group in order to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for guiding, supervising, and implementing the audit on the MPI Group, and for forming an opinion on the audit of the Group.

We have communicated with the governing body about the scope, timing and significant findings (including significant defects identified in the internal control) of our audits.

We have also provided the governing body with a declaration of independence stating that all relevant personnel of the accounting firm have complied with CPAs' professional ethics, and communicated with the governing body on all matters that may affect the auditor's independence (including related protection measures).

We have identified the key audit issues after communicating with the governing body regarding the 2024 consolidated financial statements of the MPI Group. These issues have been addressed in our audit report except for certain topics that are prohibited by law from disclosing to the public, or under extreme circumstances, topics that we decided not to communicate in the audit report because of higher negative impacts they may cause than the benefits they bring to public interest.
